

Gatsby Benchmarks

1. A Stable Careers Programme

Schools and colleges will have an embedded careers curriculum

The Wright Site offers the opportunity to involve students, staff and parents.

2. Learning from career and labour market information

Deliver this resource in partnership with your local college construction staff who will have contacts to the industry in your local area, or get support from a STEM Ambassador.

Parents should be encouraged to access and use information about labour markets and how to support their children.

3. Addressing the needs of each pupil

The Wright Site has embedded equality and diversity considerations throughout.

Opportunity to deliver The Wright Site to suit the needs of the individual.

4. Linking curriculum learning to careers

The Wright Site hosts examples of a problem based challenges. These show how methods and skills developed in the classroom can be used in working life to solve real problems.

Teachers can use materials that show the relevance of their subject to careers. Eric Wright offers CPD sessions for school staff to understand our industry better.

Gatsby Benchmarks

5. Encounters with employers and employees

Multiple opportunities to learn about different roles and skills needed within the industry

Multiple opportunities to learn about employability skills, behaviours and attitudes expected in the workplace.

6. Experiences of workplaces

Virtual tours of multiple workplace environments within the company.

Multiple simulated tasks relative to working environments

7. Encounters with further and higher education

Examples of multiple career pathways, including apprenticeship routes and university pathways.

TWS creates the opportunity to explore further progression routes and ask questions to specific ambassadors.

8. Personal guidance

Opportunity for individual guidance and questions

Links to other resources to support additional learning